Career Solutions Publishing

Dear Educator Friends,

Workplaces continue to transition. While some of the transitions described below are not new, we see their effect escalating.

- Digitization will continue to alter the skills needed in almost all careers, making digital citizenship critical to technology training.
- Verbal and written communication skills diminish in technological environments, making specialized training in all forms of communication a top priority for all students.
- Soft skills are the leading factor in job success and should receive extra attention in education. “Is Tech Destroying Kids’ Social Skills? Here’s How Social-Emotional Learning Can Help.” (Ed Week: April 12, 2022)
- Hybrid and virtual workplaces will grow in importance, with some employees working three days at a central location and two days at home, or five days remotely.
- 54% of GenZ students say they want to become entrepreneurs. (Nielsen/Forbes)

To educate students for the evolving workplace, Career Solutions Publishing develops new resources each year. Follow the links below to learn what’s new for the 2022-23 school year.

- The Hybrid/Virtual Workplace, a new topic for Job Ready Career Skills features ten lessons on hybrid and virtual work. With the 24 other topics, you have access to 250 assessed and scored soft skills lessons suitable for hybrid, virtual, or traditional jobs. Customize Job Ready Career Skills to your classroom by choosing topics and lessons—or use all 250 lessons for broader training. <https://csp.link/JRCS>
- A Day in the Life of an Entrepreneur, a 2-page narrative of common entrepreneurial challenges, can be used alone or combined with Skills for the First-Time Entrepreneur, one of the Quick Skills Series of interactive E-Textbooks. <https://myqss.link/FirstTimeEntrepreneur>
- On the Job Writing, introduced last fall, equips students to write for work. A career-specific writing story opens every lesson followed by easy-to-apply instructions, examples, and activities that simplify writing tasks. This is an excellent tool for students with writing anxiety. <https://csp.link/OnTheJobWriting>

As always, we promise you exceptional service. Contact us with a question and we will provide immediate support.

If you would like to join a small educator group that meets online with Career Solutions Publishing in an advisory capacity twice a year, we’d like to hear from you. And if you have written a software or E-Text resource, we welcome your proposal.

We appreciate you. Best wishes for 2022-23.

It's for Real Workplace Ethics Series I, II, III, IV

Interactive Online or Interactive USB Drive | © 2021
64 lessons (16 per series) (20-25 minutes each) | The Teacher's Desktop
Suggested level: All

It's for Real Workplace Ethics features the stories of five young people who attend school full time and work part-time. In their jobs, the characters encounter ethical issues and your students answer the question, "What would you do in this situation?" Then your students learn "What the boss will think." Each lesson contains an ethics story, three activities, an ethics advice column, a related cartoon, a student's writing blog, and a true/false and multiple choice assessment. The 64 lessons feature honesty, responsibility, integrity, dependability, commitment, punctuality, confidentiality, and many other ethics topics. The Teacher's Desktop (online version only) allows you to use all four series or to choose series of lessons for different classes or levels of students. The Teacher's Desktop allows you to customize your course.

A Day in the Life of an Entrepreneur

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | English | © 2023
Teacher's Guide
Suggested level: High School, Upper Middle, Adult

This series of nine, 3-page lessons opens with a short message from an entrepreneur and continues with 2 pages of concepts related to the message, 1 page of activities, and web links to small businesses. Topics include Starting Up, Financing the Business, Working with Customers, Human Resources, Balancing Work and Home Life, and much more. Students learn about the rewards, challenges, and day-to-day tasks and responsibilities of an entrepreneur. A Day in the Life of an Entrepreneur is an excellent accompaniment to Skills for the First-Time Entrepreneur E-Text. With these two sources, students gain both a broad picture of small business ownership and a view of how they will spend their daily time. The Teacher's Guide containing ample additional activities and more websites gives teachers the ability to fit A Day in the Life of an Entrepreneur into grading periods of different lengths.

On the Job Writing

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | English | © 2021
Basic or Premium Edition
Instructor's Guide
Suggested level: High School, Upper Middle, Adult

On the Job Writing teaches the basic writing skills needed in every career and job. With employers identifying work-related writing as a great weakness of new hires, even the most accomplished essay writers must be able to translate their skill to work-related situations. The simple instructional approach of On the Job Writing and plentiful examples and activities from various careers highlight the types of writing required for work. The BASIC EDITION is effective for small amounts of educational time, while the PREMIUM EDITION expands to more comprehensive writing instruction that can fulfill the requirements of a grading period or course. Suggested student responses for all writing activities plus teaching ideas are provided for instructors.

Career Launcher

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | © 2020
300 Careers (15-20 minute lessons) | Instructor's Guide
Suggested level: Middle School, Early High School

The easy-to-navigate Career Launcher allows students to access information about 300 careers across all pathways. Written from a worker's point of view, each career begins with "What I Do Every Day, The Best Part of My Job, The Worst Part of My Job, How I Trained for My Job, and How I Could Have Trained Better." In addition, salary projections, educational requirements, and a list of related careers inform students about career options. Four short academic activities help students understand aspects of each career. "Green environment" careers and "bright outlook" careers are highlighted. Students can navigate the program in three ways: by career title (for exploring careers), by academic area (for applying academic skills to real work situations), and by level of education (for matching careers to the education or training required).

Connecting Life and Careers

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | © 2019
12 lessons (30-45 minutes each) | Instructor's Guide
Suggested Level: Middle School, Early High School, Summer School

Connecting Life and Careers establishes the link between career success, decisions made during the school years and life satisfaction. These lessons are ideal for middle school and early high school courses, transition programs or other units that engage students in life choices. The content helps your students cover key questions such as, "What challenges will I face if my life is sidetracked due to poor decisions made in my youth?" "What does a budget for a single parent with a small income look like?" "What is my personal definition of success?" "What are the rewards and sacrifices of different careers?" and "How does career choice affect my lifestyle?" Suggested responses and teaching suggestions are provided.

Learning About Careers, Ed2

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | © 2020
32 lessons (15-20 minutes each) | Instructor's Guide
Suggested level: Middle School

With Learning About Careers, students assume the role of an employee in each of 32 careers. These engaging 6-8 page lessons are ideal for career discovery, career exploration and transition programs. The goal is to help students improve their work readiness skills and learn how academics apply to job-related situations. Students prepare a personal budget based on expected earnings in each career field. The lessons cover 16 pathways and are easy for instructors to implement. Sample careers include adoption supervisor, athletic trainer, entrepreneur, correctional supervisor, firefighter, perfusionist, purchasing manager, welder and many others.

A Lesson A Day

Interactive Online, LTI Compatible or USB Drive | © 2018

80 lessons (10-15 minutes each) | Instructor's Guide

Suggested level: Middle School, Early High School

A Lesson A Day provides short practices in applying academics to tasks required in a career. The relevant, practical exercises are excellent for brief blocks of instructional time, such as bell ringers, and for substitute teachers who may need assistance in keeping the tempo of a class moving. The content is also valuable for students with limited attention spans. The one-page lessons can fill your time slots with relevant, practical exercises. A variety of career pathways are used as examples. Series I contains activities for math and science; Series II covers English, communications, ethics and social studies.

Site Licensing Terms and Additional Discounts

Site License. A site license covers students enrolled in one class or all classes in one school building. Students above 500 are $95 per each group of 100. Discounted site licenses may be purchased for three or more schools by contacting Career Solutions Publishing. A site license includes set-up for five new teachers each year. Additional teachers may be added at $10 per teacher. For Cyber school site licenses, contact Career Solutions Publishing for a quote.

- Annual Site License: Products that are purchased for online or USB use require an annual renewal. This license covers all teachers and all students enrolled in all of one school's programs in one building. The license covers the students' virtual use of the resources away from the school or building as long as they are enrolled in a class.
- Program License: A program license is available for CSP products. This license covers students and teachers enrolled in one program that takes place at different locations, for example, a district that offers a special class to a small number of students in several schools. Please contact Career Solutions Publishing at 888-299-2784 or 610-993-8292 for a quote.
- County License or State License: A county or state may obtain a license to enroll all students in all schools. Please contact Career Solutions Publishing at 888-299-2784 or 610-993-8292 for a quote.

Additional Discounts and Charges. In addition to the pricing shown above, district-wide, county-wide, or state-wide discounts are available by contacting CSP when ordering for three or more schools. For specialized customization services, add a fee of $100 per hour.

Our Customer Service Pledge

Career Solutions Publishing customers say our service is unmatched in publishing, and we'd like to prove it to you. We think of ourselves as partners with you, and we will go out of our way to meet your needs.

A live person will answer when you call between 7:30 a.m.–8:00 p.m. EST. We'll respond to your questions or handle your technology inquiries immediately. If you ask for a product recommendation, we'll ask your course goals, grade levels, and budget. Then we'll offer an honest appraisal of our materials that will be most effective for your classroom or program.

We continually upgrade our materials and develop new products to meet your school needs. As former teachers and educational leaders, we know the challenges you face, and our purpose is to help you meet those challenges by publishing relevant, practical resources that will serve you and your students well. Please call when you need correlations of our products with your standards or local requirements. We'll provide turn-around service.

Testimonials

"I first came across Career Solutions Headlines 15 years ago. They had sent me a free weekly mini lesson, covering a wide array of career related topics. I always found it engaging for student conversation, relevant to today's trends and very relatable. Since then, I transitioned to two other positions in Career Services and keep it as my "go-to" for soft skills and the like. I am now using their Competitive Advantage online product with the adult population in the trades and am very happy with results. I give the staff, customer support and their products a 5-star rating"

"The Youth Success Academy has used Job Ready Career Skills for a few years now. It is a great curriculum for our students to use for getting and keeping a job. Now that we are having to make adjustments due to COVID-19 and going strictly online, it is really important for us to see the amount of time that students are spending on lessons and on the pre-test and post-test. CSP worked hard to add a feature to show how much time the students spend doing the pre- and post-test. Now we can account for all the time they are working."

"The Job Ready Career Skills curriculum has been an excellent addition to our campus the past two years. It has helped to get our school focused on career readiness skills throughout the entire year by infusing the modules into our regular instructional programs. Teachers and students have found it easy to use and the customer service skills of the Career Solutions Publishing team is second to none."

— Principal, CA

"Working at a Career Center, we are preparing students for the workforce, which includes not only their technical skills but soft skills and money management. The lessons in Job Ready Career Skills and Managing Your Money are user friendly and relevant to our students. I have been using this for an elective class I teach called Life Prep, and recently had two of our Medical Careers teachers ask to be added to the accounts because they felt the lessons would benefit their seniors. I have also had wonderful experiences with their customer service support, you will receive a prompt and helpful response anytime you reach out to them!"

— Cosmetology Instructor, OH

"My district purchased Job Ready Career Skills this year for me to use while teaching a course that I have never taught before. The customer service from Career Solutions Publishing has been AMAZING! Since the course and the software are new to me, I have had many questions. When I email this company, they typically respond to my questions and concerns within five minutes! I even had a concern regarding how the assessments were presented and they corrected the issue within five days. I have never experienced customer service like this before."

"Hello, I wanted to take a moment to thank you and your team for all of the support you have provided my folks as we have shifted towards virtual learning because of COVID-19. Today was my first day back, and when I met with my team, they could not say enough about how helpful and supportive you all have been, so I wanted to email you with a thank you!"

— Exceptional Children Administrator, NC

"When the COVID-19 lockdown began, I found myself in quite a predicament. I teach four classes of "Microsoft Concepts" this semester, and students did not have their own books to take home to use for instruction. I was worried, but then your company's email came my way with the opportunity to use e-books for my classes generously donated by Career Solutions Publishing. It was a godsend, to say the least! Thank you so much for offering your catalog to me and for helping a frazzled teacher feel in charge again! I truly appreciate it."

— Business, PA

"I want to take this opportunity to thank you for assisting my classes with setting up their password and making sure they can log in. Your patience and dedication are greatly appreciated. Career Solutions Publishing is certainly very fortunate to have you on its team. Keep up the good work and Happy Holidays."

Job Ready Career Skills

Compared Program

More than 200 available lessons. Teacher may identify and select which lessons a student should complete. “Love it!”

77 available lessons. Teacher has no input as to lesson selection.

Student pre- and post-tests are developed by the teacher from questions provided online. Tests are completed, graded and recorded online. Essays and other follow-up activities are optional. Suggested responses are available for teacher to assist with assessment. “Fantastic.”

Student pre- and post-tests were provided and had to be completed on paper, hand graded and recorded on a hard-copy log. Essays were mandatory and had to be graded by the teacher.

Quizzes are computer graded. “Yes!” Scores may be viewed by Lesson, Topic, and Category.

All records of quiz scores had to be entered by hand.

The content and format of the lessons are age appropriate, yet at a reading level suitable for most students. “Great!” There are fifteen questions at the end of each lesson. Teacher may view minutes spent on each lesson, which is a good indicator of whether a student is actually reading the lesson. “I liked this feature, and it is coming back in the updated edition.”

The cartoon illustrations and simplistic lesson content were perceived by students as juvenile. Students generally clicked through lessons and were able to correctly answer the two or three true/false quiz questions at the end of each lesson through guessing or trial and error.

Teacher resets a quiz each time a subsequent attempt is required. “This is an essential feature which appears in the new version of Job Ready Career Skills.”

Teachers had no control over how many times a student attempted a quiz.

No printing required. “Whee!”

Vast amounts of materials needed to be printed resulting in prohibitive printer and paper costs.

Excellent customer service. “Problems are always addressed.”

Frequent technical difficulties with the site. Extremely poor technical support and customer service.
